A worn tag. An in-person bump. There is nothing here to sign up for.

THE RULE

Membership begins only when a member bumps you in – face to face. No invite link, no email code, no signup. If you weren't there, you're not in.

Bump is in-person only. This card just says who Able is here as. To get in, ask Able to bump you – in the room.

ABOUT

you get bumped in.

You can't join online — you ask a member to bump you in, in person, then come back in a month.

No email. No invite link. No signup.

The only door is a person. Ask one to bump you, and come back in a month.

Come back in a month. You still only get in through an in-person bump.

Anonymous throughout. No name, email, phone, or tracking. Aggregate counts only – and repeat taps don't double-count.

The look is one idea: cohering. The logo is a single ring – whole at rest (the room before a bump), and it draws itself into one when something coheres. Bone-on-black with hairlines is the resting quiet; the one accent, coherence violet, appears only at the moment of a bump – the mark, the action, the count – and nowhere else. Type is Space Grotesk for human lines, Space Mono for everything structural. Copy unchanged.
